

FRE 310HS
Relation of Text and Image in French Literature

1:00-3:00 Wednesday

Description:

Literary texts often incorporate images and other forms of media in a way that enriches the analysis of literature. Through an in-depth study of interdisciplinary theoretical texts focused on word and image interactions, illustration, photography, ekphrasis and various literary theories, this course aims to explore word and image relations in the analysis of a series of French